

October 8-14, 2004

Stephanie Friese

—AGE—

28 Managing partner,
Friese & Price Law Firm LLC

As managing partner of Friese & Price Law Firm LLC, Stephanie Friese is paving her own way to a successful real estate law firm.

It was her father, also an attorney, who suggested that she start her own practice.

“My dad — he was the person who encouraged me and gave me the support,” she said.

Her father serves as an adviser to the firm on an as-needed basis, she said.

Friese received her undergraduate degree in political science from Stetson University in DeLand, Fla., and received her law degree from The University of Georgia. In 1999, straight out of law school, she started her own firm in Atlanta with husband and partner, Alon Price. One of Friese’s largest clients is The Coca-Cola Co. (NYSE: KO):

Friese is president elect of the Georgia Association for Women Lawyers and also leadership co-chair for Commercial Real Estate Women (CREW) Atlanta.

She and Price also do a monthly pro bono radio show on WAOK News & Talk (1380-AM), in which they answer residential real estate and landlord-tenant questions. Darren Margolias, vice president of Margolias Realty Group said one of the main reasons he works with Friese is the attention to detail she gives to every case.

“We know it will be taken care of right through the end,” he said.